Parliamentarians Take Advantage of Technicality To Delay Bill.

Chiropractors Bill Was To Be Voted Upon Today, Its Friends Say.

Columbus, April 30.—Both houses of the general assembly, working today as though it were yesterday were expected to recess about midnight tonight until May 12, when they again will return for a few days to finish up the work of the session.

The senate today will consider the biennial appropriation bill, carrying $54,178.85, which was reported in by the finance committee last night. The measure carries about $37,000,000 less than when it passed the house, because of the elimination of the state public school fund, which under the brand bill will be raised hereafter through local levies.

The house, among other things of minor character, is expected to wrestle with the chiropractors bill which last night was taken from the reorganization committee and placed upon the calendar as a special order for 11 o'clock "tomorrow." In as much as the legislature will be working today as though it still were Friday, 11 o'clock "tomorrow," according to house parliamentarians will not be until the next legislative day, which will be May 12.

Friends of the measure, however, were under the impression that they were fixing the time so the bill would be voted upon today.

When attempt is made to bring the bill up at 11 o'clock today, opponents are prepared to raise a point of order, contending that "tomorrow" means May 12. The bill's friends, however, are expected to insist on vote being taken today, and in as much as they had the necessary votes last night to take the bill from committee, they may be able to override the point of order and obtain immediate consideration. A high fight is expected.

The senate last night after considerable debate, passed the Krummer anesthetic bill which repeals the Wright law of two years ago permitting nurses to administer anesthetics. The bill now goes to the house. Physicians are opposed to the bill, and some agreement will be attempted at the meeting of the Ohio Medical Association here next week. The action of the medical association may determine whether the bill passes the house.

Both the senate and house today will appoint their members of a conference committee, which, during the recess, will attempt to work out a taxation amendment which both houses may unite in presenting to the voters next November. The house last night adopted a resolution providing for appointment of a committee of six members to consider the joint rules of the two houses only three may serve. The three excess members will act in an advisory capacity to the three regular members. The action of these regular members in all cases is to be determined by the majority of the full committee of the senate members.

The conference committee will enter the conference to work for a compromise as near as possible to conform to the Whitmore amendment adopted by the senate. House conference members will try for a compromise as nearly as possible in accord with the Fouts amendment adopted by the house.

The senate last night passed the Bryan bill, providing an additional common justice court for Summit county. The bill has passed the house.

BELL AGREES TO MERGER SCHEME

Signs Contract Agrees to Consolidate, If There Are No Legal Barriers to Plan As Outlined.

Columbus, April 30.—The Ohio Bell Telephone company today agreed to enter into a contract with the Ohio State Telephone company to consolidate the two, providing it can be accomplished legally.

Directors of the Ohio State company yesterday adopted a plan for consolidation. Action of the Bell company today practically puts the unification plan up to the state public utilities commission and stockholders of the two companies. Action of the latter, however, is expected to be perfunctory.

The Bell company announcement came in the form of a statement from E. A. Reed, vice president.

According to that statement, the elimination of dual telephone service already has been accomplished, or is pending now, at nearly every point in Ohio where it had existed.

There are practically 1,000,000 telephone stations in Ohio said the statement, who receive service through more than 1,000 exchanges, operated by upwards of 550 separate telephone companies. These all will have the benefit of complete interchange of service, the statement points out.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad company, which is the subject of the statement one of the officials last night, in company with other railroads of the country is facing the crisis of its financial difficulties. "The increases we secure with in the next 30 days, mean more to the railroads, than any business obtained after that time."

The object of the meeting last night was to appeal to the Veterans' association to aid in the solicitation of business for their company. All members were told they could do this by suggesting to the companies with which they transact their business to the B. & O. railroad.

The following officials attended the meeting there from out of the city making the trip in a social car: H. O. Hartzell, manager commercial department, Baltimore; George W. Stummer, President Baltimore and Ohio Veterans Association, Baltimore; W. W. Wood, superintendent welfare department, Baltimore; R. E. Lewis, freight train manager, Cincinnati; J. M. McDermott, industrial agent, Chicago; Gayle W. Arnold, industrial agent, Cincinnati; R. E. White, division passenger agent, Columbus; state vice president of B. & O. Veterans' association, J. M. Garvey of Cincinnati. The local officials with the party were: E. N. Kendall, division manager, Erie and Erie, division freight agent of Newark; and Harry G. Kruse, superintendent of the Newark division.

The program opened with a prayer by Rev. G. B. Schmitt and musical numbers were furnished by the B. & O. glee club, a vocal trio, Misses Montanery, Kruse and Hulsizer; piano Miss Ruth Kastla and violin Miss Martha Flurschütz.

President Stummer of the association gave an excellent talk and was followed by Mr. Hartzell. He told the veterans he knew many were dissatisfied with the pension but that in the present financial condition the railroad could not better it, but promised as soon as normal conditions were restored it would receive first consideration. He also touched on the burlough man, saying he would be returned as soon as the business of the road permitted and told the veterans that for every carload of freight and every passenger routed over their road, it meant that many more men returned.

"There are three points for the railroad employee to consider: courtesy, service and loyalty. In the outlining of what was meant by service, Mr. Hartzell said the railroad had paid four million dollars in claims for damages in 1920 and that investigation showed that half of this was due to carelessness and thoughtlessness on the part of employees."

W. W. Wood of the welfare department outlined the history of the road. He said it was the oldest road in the country and the only one operating under its original charter. It was started by Charles Carroll of Carrollton in 1827. He said instead of co-operation he would ask confidence in the management by the employees.

H. R. Lewis of Cincinnati, talked briefly on the results that could be obtained by the earnest efforts of the employees to secure business, and R. E. White of Columbus spoke along the same line. A talk relative to the Veterans' association was given by J. M. Garvey, state vice president of the association from Columbus.

Superintendent H. G. Kruse of the local division spoke briefly, but pointedly, "Results, Not Excuses," reads a sign in my office, said Mr. Kruse. "That is the motto of the Newark division. We are going out and get results and we will have no excuses to offer."

The visiting officials left Newark shortly after the meeting.

EMPLOYEES URGED TO BOOST B-O BUSINESS TO RESTORE NORMALCY

April Revenues Show Heavy Falling Off During First 12 Days—Asks Workers to Suggest Use of B. & O. By Business Men With Whom They Deal.

"For the first 12 days of April, 1921, as compared with April 1920, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad alone suffered a decrease in the amount of freight hauled to the extent of 25,000 cars. These cars valued at $40 each, meant a loss of $20,000, or if continued at the same ratio, a loss for the month of two and one half million dollars," said H. O. Hartzell manager of the commercial department at Baltimore.

Mr. Hartzell was addressing a rally arranged by the Baltimore and Ohio Veterans' association, for the employees and friends of the company.

HAS TWO WIVES; THEY ALL LOVE EACH OTHER; TRIANGLE PERMITTED TO STAND

Akron, April 30.—An unusual ruling under which Guiseppe Sarniola will be allowed to keep two wives was handed down by federal authorities and Akron police when Sarniola accompanied by Wife No. 1, with a 10 year old son, and Wife No. 2, leading a three year old boy and carrying a baby, appeared at police headquarters yesterday.

Sarniola married Wife No. 1 in Italy eleven years ago. Later he came to America. Four years ago he sent for her, but due to the war, heard nothing and presumed she was dead. Then he met Wife No. 2, a Pennsylvania widow. She became his common law wife, he said. Two children were born.

Last week Mrs. Sarniola Number 1 and her son reached Akron on an immigration train. Sarniola hastened to the police with his troubles, his two wives and his three children.

After an investigation federal authorities told Sarniola to take his wives home and support them. The wives agreed to love each other and live peaceably together. They left police headquarters arm in arm.

"I love them both. They love each other. We all love. I keep them all. They say so," Sarniola said in broken English.

NEW YORK READY TO MEET MAY DAY DEMONSTRATIONS

Eleven Thousand Police Will Remain On Duty To Keep Order.

Public Buildings and Homes of Prominent Men Are Guarded.

New York, April 30.—New York's entire police force of 11,000 men today was ordered to remain on duty continuously until Monday morning as a measure of precaution against possible May Day violence or radical demonstrations.

Blue coats were detailed to guard the city's churches, public buildings and meeting places while others were assigned to protect private residences and individuals believed to be in danger. Many others were held in station houses for emergency calls.

Assignments of police to various auditoriums and halls tomorrow—May Day—were announced and members of the bomb squad, and a number of radicals believed to be active in the attempt to cause a great demonstration here.

Police today declared that the arrest last night of Abram Jakire and Jacob Amter, who were held on charges of criminal anarchy had broken the spirit of Communist workers who expected to bring about a demonstration tomorrow. These men, charged by the police with having several wagon loads of radical literature in their possession, were said to have been officers of the Third International and in constant communication with Moscow.

Jakire and Amter were taken in custody in the apartment of Mrs. Helen Ware, daughter of Mrs. Ella Reeves Bloor, national organizer of the communist party in this country.

In the seized literature, the police said, they found circulars similar to those scattered here and in various other three cities calling attention to the industrial conditions in the United States and urging the overthrow of the government. Several loaded revolvers also were found by the police, it was reported. The trunks, police said, were filled with maps of the United States containing statistics of the strength of the various revolutionary groups here. These maps revealed the total membership of the groups in every city and community of any size through the United States and disclosed the membership of 25 per cent of the members of the radical organizations were foreigners.

Russians, Poles and Italians were found to be in the majority in the membership of the red organizations with which Jakire and Amter were affiliated, the police charged. The maps revealed that in the mining districts of Pennsylvania and West Virginia as well as in several other states east of Chicago, the percentage of radicals was very high.

To offset expected red activities, the American Defense society will hold a mass meeting tomorrow at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Newton W. Gilbert, former vice governor of the Philippines presiding. Among the speakers will be Representative Albert Johnson of Washington.

Representatives of the chamber of commerce of New York, the American committee for devastated France, the National Association for Constitutional Government and many other patriotic and civic bodies will be present. The meeting will be one of a series to be held throughout the country. A letter from President Harding will be read.

ENCOURAGING LAW BREAKER.

The recent "crime wave" is not merely the aftermath of war, as many people say. The tendencies toward dishonesty and crookedness that are so common in our life, tend to encourage the serious crime.

The law breaker sees instances of business men who hoard goods, who steal from public funds through forms of graft, who charge exorbitantly for merchandise. He says to himself, "Why is it worse for me to hold up a man and take away $2000 from him, than for unscrupulous contractors to pay graft to corrupt politicians to get a profit to get 10 cents too much out of 100 different people, and thus rob them of the same amount that I get by a much simpler process?"

It is not easy to draw distinctions between different grades of dishonesty. They all shade into each other. Most profilers sincerely think that they are entitled to all they can get. Yet they may be robbing the public a hundred times more than the thief who is a gun.

Anyone who defends dishonesty, is creating an influence in favor of all kinds of crime. A man with a tough nature and an inclination to think clearly, jumps at the conclusion that fraudulent practices are universal. As he is not sharp enough to think out ways of stealing that will clear the law, he thinks that the only thing left is to commit some more capital crime when he feels it is no worse than other people are doing. His logic is faulty but has been encouraged by the acts of those who are more responsible for the moral effect of their conduct.

It is necessary to enforce the laws against crime, and put the hold up man in jail. But if society is going to discourage the criminal acts, it must also begin at the vices of tamper and counterfeit acts of dishonesty that now spread the spirit of crime.

SCHOOL ATHLETICS.

Some people object to the amount of time and attention that school boys give to their athletic teams. Some promising athletes seem to give too much thought to football and football to every one else of their studies. And sometimes they are the subject of too much attention. It may do harm to have success come with so little effort.

On the other hand, the athletes work off a lot of surplus vitality that might make trouble in other ways. When the boys are punching and hitting baseballs, they aren't getting tangled up.

Also they aren't hanging around the curbsides splitting in the gutter. They are developing their physical condition, learning how to be fair, to do team work, and co-operate with others.

The worst fault of the athletic system is that it tends to concentrate attention on the few members of a team, while the great majority of the students are left out. Usually they can't do much but sit on the bleachers and yell for the team. They need physical training more than anyone else, yet they get the least of it.

An effort should be made to see that every able-bodied boy who wants to play games, has a chance on some kind of a team. So if the system is to be conducted at all, the boys should be divided into teams and entered in competition with each other. In that way many fellows of poor physical development who have not the special alertness required to play on a school's best team, could yet meet others of their own class, and get a great deal of benefit. Also the girls whose parents desire them to have athletic training, should have the chance. It is to be hoped that every student in the schools of Newark will get some benefit from sports and that none of those who want to participate will be forced merely to watch others.

GETTING BACK TO NORMALCY.

Many people are impressed with the strangeness of the situation, that many men are employed, yet the country is clamoring for construction of more houses, railroads and farms need more equipment, and the world is full of work that needs to be done. What shall bring together the jobless man, and the manless job?

The industry that gets back to pre-war prices first, will recover full prosperity first. If any group of people would agree today to put up houses for pre-war prices, they could get 100 times as much business as they could do. Idle men and idle capital should think about that.

Growing realization reported among the young men of Newark that the prettiest girls don't always make the prettiest mistresses. And it is becoming realized by the girls that the star athletes don't always develop into the business managers and general superintendents.

Formerly wives were supposed to use the rolling pin as a weapon on their husbands. But in these days of bake shops and delicatessen stores, a lot of the women either don't own a rolling pin or they couldn't find it in case of emergency.

Marathon race at Boston was won by a plumber. It has not so far really been claimed that experience in the plumbing business was helpful in making speed records.

Some people can't inform themselves of new developments affecting their own business, as they have to spend so much time reading the stock market reports.

Girls of the graduating classes don't worry much about the examinations, but it is taking great mental concentration to get their gowns right.

Many folks think it makes no difference if their production falls off, as it can always be made up by charging a higher price to the consumer.

Some people in Newark may have wished they had gone to war, when they heard that the allies had taken over the German breweries.

Some people apparently think they can solve the industrial problem by selling stocks and throwing a lot more money out of employment.

The birds are promoting the home building movement anyway, and now I'm refused to work because there aren't worms enough.

The hope that President Harding's bull pen and his amiable dog won't get so bad as to wake up the government clerks.

Some folks swear husbands and wives so frequently that they must have gotten trading stamps with their marriage license.

It is hard for the public to make a proper show of grief when a speeder gets smashed up in an automobile accident.

Some people seem to think a divorce coupon ought to be attached to every marriage certificate.

Camel the the sky law should be both but the suckers appear to be able to bite without having any.

THE PRESIDENTIAL GOLF MIGHT BE BETTER

To the Editor of the Advocate:

Everybody I seen lately has asked me to tell them about my golf match with the President and it looks like they was a nation wide interest in same so I will repeat the story over again for the benefit of those which ain't been lucky enough to see me since the mammoth event came off.

Well, Grant Rice, the poet, called up one day and says he had made a date for me and I to go to Washington and play golf with the President so we got there early on a Thursday A. M. and went to the Willard and eat our breakfast at the next table to Mr. and Mrs. Cochrane who however remained in the ignorant of same. After a while I visited a barber shop while Grant was trying to get a hold of Mr. Christian on the telephone and the manicure gal asked me where did I come from and I says N. Y. and she says she would hate to live in N. Y. but wouldn't mind working there if she could have a home in N. Y. or Brighton and she asked me when I was going back and finally what I was doing in Washington and I says I come to get a manicure.

"You are a great kiddie," she says, so at 11 o'clock I come out of the barber shop looking pretty good.

Well it seems Mr. Christian had asked me and Grant to lunch with the President and Mrs. Harding and Grant had said yes without even asking them what they was going to have, so we got our suits and golf bags and went out to where the taxis are and the starter says:

"To the White House?"

No to the White House," says Grant and I shoved the two cabs back and looked figuring we had give him a good one of them.

Well I was whisked to the office entrance and showed right into the private office and shook hands with the President, but he also had a lot of other suits to shake hands with so we stood and waited with Mr. Christian to try and find out the details of the administration towards some of the big questions of the hour, and he as much as a hint that he didn't see how Cobb could get anywhere with the pitchers.

When the President was through shaking hands with the brother Elks suit without a vest while the writer wore a Haring blue suit complete in 7 pieces. After I had drank 2 cups of coffee made hostess asked me wouldn't I have some more, and I says yes and she made them get it for me without any argument. Up to this time I had felt right at home.

The President and Mr. Rice, talked golf while I and the 1st lady indulged in the light chat which makes the present writer so sought after by fashionable N. Y. hostesses. For just when she said:

"I expected you would be a man 20 yrs. older," I just smiled and said I'm empty.

"Did you?"

After lunch the President showed Grant and I over the cozy little home, including the state bedrooms which he didn't say what the names of the different ones was but they all looked like Texas and Andy he turned us over to a valet that took us to a room where we was to dress for the game. During this incident I and Grant realized that people that lives in the White House has got a servant problem like every body else. The problem there is how to get the valet out of a room where you dress and neither of us were able to solve it. Further and more we had forgotten white pants to match the house where we was visiting and mine had just come over from the cleaners and was daring to say the least.

So all and all I was Hushing furious when we joined the President again and was introduced to Mr. Fletcher the under secy. of state who was going to make the 4th man though neither Mr. Rice or myself is use to playing with underlings. The 1st of us stood on the front porch with a couple of photographers took our picture, which I am afraid mine will be very modest.

Well, we did sit in a car and we walked away and the President talked about this and that and says he supposed we had reached in the White House, but he had to get in the elevator ahead of the Mrs. and go through doors 1st, 2nd and 3rd, and it was a rule that the President always has to do everything 1st and he wished it was different as it made him feel uncomfortable. Well, out on the golf course they forget this rule and go according to the golf rules, and I guess he generally always feels pretty comfortable out there.

"That's a nice course here in town," he says, "but I guess we'll go."

Not like this at home, Mr. Rice had on a gray pin stripe.

From Spring Valley and took us over to the White House, and we had to keep a thing him Mr. President as Mr. Christian had kind of mumbled his name when we was introduced, and we met the 1st lady of the land and eat our lunch which was liver and bacon, new potatoes, asparagus, biscuits and some kind of a tart.

Not like this at home, Mr. Rice had on a gray pin stripe.

President Harding with Ring W. Lardner, Grantland Rice and Under Secretary of State Fletcher on the White House steps. This photograph was taken as the foursome was about to leave for Chevy Chase for an afternoon of golf. Lardner and Rice had been lunching guests of the President.

Well when we had went 9 holes I asked our score keeper Mr. Jarvis how we stood and he read off the scores and Mr. Harding had 34 and Mr. Fletcher 50 and Mr. Rice 44.

"Well," I says, "I would rather be Rice than be President," but it's vs. the rules for Jarvis to laugh a specially on the golf course.

I was asked to not say what the other birds got on the last nine, but personally I cut off 3 strokes and come in in 65. All this while I thought we had been playing for the President's Cup or something, but when it was over and Mr. Fletcher gave me 10 golf balls which he said I had won on the match, why you could of knocked me down with a shiner. If that's the way things is going this yr. it looks like we'd have the whole world serious in Philadelphia.

It was after 6 o'clock when we got through and Mr. Harding asked us to stay at the White House for supper but if the 1st lady is anything like the 2nd she don't want the grand exalted ruler inviting no surprise guests to supper on a Thursday, so we stopped just long enough to get our regular clothes and caught the 7 o'clock back home no worse for the trip except that it will take a long while to get use to dressing ourselves.

good and me terrible. Without wishing to brag I must say at this juncture that I was the only one in the party that lived up to expectations. We hadn't went more than 2 or 3 holes when I understood why the man they had brought along to keep score was from the secret service.

In regards to the course we played on, why if Washington is the city of magnificent distances they's no words left to describe Chevy Chase. They had the yards wrote down on the score card like at all golf courses, but if the man that measured them had of counted Mr. Harding's votes we would have been playing vs. Gov. Cox. It's a pretty course though and I seen it all, and when I got home I looked up in the atlas to see where was it located but the only town I could find in Maryland that sounded like it might be it was Trapp.

WITH THE OHIO CLUB WOMEN

By MRS. GEO. ELLIOTT M'CONNICK

Citizenship Day.
Every club federation in Ohio will conduct a program in observance of "Citizenship" day, July 4 and make it an annual event if the recommendation of Mrs. William H. Sharp, Columbus, federated club leader of Ohio is adopted. Mrs. Sharp having adopted the suggestion of Mrs. Jerce V. Pennybacker, of Texas, General federated chairman of the Citizenship committee, urgent requests all clubs to make special effort to observe the day of July 4 jointly with "Citizenship" day. She stressed the importance of such an observance at the Northwest conference of the Ohio federation at Van Wert April 18-20. The suggestion is to have the new citizens of every town. New citizens in this instance would mean, of course, the foreigner who has become Americanized and the American boy or girl who has become of age during the year.

Mrs. Sharp suggests that "Citizenship" day be made a memorable occasion. "Have a parade, bands and anything that will make the day long to be remembered," she said at Van Wert. "Write to General federated headquarters, No. 415 Maryland building, Washington, for printed material for the proper observance of this day."

Gratifying attendance marked every session of the Van Wert meeting. All sessions were held at the Young Women's Christian Association building. Van Wert club women showed extraordinary talent in their musicals which followed a banquet April 19. It was one of the delightfully surprising features of the convention.

In her address at the afternoon session Tuesday Mrs. Sharp expressed the hope that next year every club observe "Federal Day" and give to the young, your city, state and General federations.

The general chairman of the Van Wert convention, which was pronounced successful by all participants, was Miss Rose Dunath. Mrs. P. P. Rideour is president of the city federation, Van Wert women assisting in the program were Mrs. Daniel McGurk, Mrs. Frank Hines, Miss Lydia Burton, Mrs. Nelson Wister, Mrs. Frank Butler, Mrs. E. E. ### SKINNELL GROCERY SHOWS EFFECT OF CUTS

The Skinnell grocery at the corner of the Arcade Annex and West Main street is using two display windows in an exceptionally interesting display this week. The display which was put in Friday shows just 100 lbs. of sugar in one window, priced at its highest, 31 cents a pound during the war, 31 cents. In the opposite window are 42 different articles of food, including 100 lbs. of sugar, all of which may be bought for the 31c which would have been spent for the sugar alone. Included in the 42 articles are sugar, canned goods, corn flakes, oats, beans, potatoes, coffee, soap, starch, etc., with the war time and the present lower price on each article.

Milady's Boudoir

Care of the Skin.
When, in an otherwise healthy skin, a black speck appears on the face it is caused by the torpidity of the skin in that particular spot. It is merely a blemish and can be easily removed. When squeezed out it resembles a little white worm, often called blackhead. When the blackheads have been permitted to form and are numerous in the skin, they are very liable to degenerate into rough looking white pimples, amounting to a disease known as acne which requires local treatment.

Blackheads are simply the result of carelessness, bad digestion and defective action of the skin. The oily matter discharging from the pores forms these black specks, which are in reality nothing but accumulated dirt. Many lotions are recommended for the purpose of removing these afflictions, bicarbonate of soda, borax, white of egg or alcohol. But, instead of being a benefit, they are irritating to the skin and are only successful for a short time.

To get rid of blackheads permanently, give the face a nightly application of good cleansing cream, going over with the face with a soft cloth, round up and out, removing the excess cream with a soft cloth. Next use a soft face brush, a pure toilet soap and warm water, with gentle friction. Rinse very carefully with warm water, being sure to remove every trace of soap. Then use plenty of cold water until the face feels cool. Continue this treatment nightly until the skin is free from blackheads. When this is accomplished, with the use of a cleansing cream every night and soap and water twice a week, the blackheads should never return.

Relaxation of the Mind.
Our minds should have much more relaxation than they do. From early morning until late at night we are ceaselessly on the move. In times of illness and its long term of convalescence we realize how much we have lost by overtaxing the mind a few minutes rest each night. But people should not be obliged to lie on a sick bed to realize this fact.

When you close your tired eyes at night and yourself a program Thursday evening in honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Fraker. The bride cut and served the wedding cake, which easily served the 130 guests present.

Mrs. Richard Gardiner, nee Julia Newkirk, spent Thursday with her mother at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Atkinson.

from withholding the moments of play and relaxation from it. Sleep as good, of course, an it rests the mind and body, but the mind is a delicate organism and needs something more than eight hours of unconsciousness at night. It needs change and rest, a looking away from the daily brain tasks, to the cloudy thoughts of nothing that matters.

Beauty in the Diet.
Good health means beauty and good health will come through correct eating. The diet must be well balanced so the body and blood will be provided with the proper quantity of food elements to make an harmonious whole. Diet is without question, the most essential and most abused hygiene canon among women who really wish to be beautiful.

Ill health from eating usually begins in childhood. The average young girl craves a cup of coffee and eats, perhaps some heavy, indigestible griddle cakes for her breakfast. For luncheon she may eat a pickle, a piece of cake or pie or a doughnut. She will also take tea in the afternoon, with the richest of cakes, thus smothering her appetite for a good, wholesome dinner. She will eat all sorts of candies between meals and, perhaps, only once or twice a week will she eat a hearty and wholesome meal.

The results of such habits of eating is to see in many young girls. Her eyes are dull, her teeth not white, her gums pale, her lips wan and her flesh unyielding. In fact all the vitality of her young womanhood is undeveloped or destroyed.

Of course there can be no hard and fast rules on dieting for what will be suited to one will not aid the other. The idea that meat must be eaten to produce strength is proven false by the horse and the elephant, two of the strongest animals in the world. They never eat meat. Never to eat meat more than once a day is a good rule and never eat anything that, upon trial, is found to disagree with you.

Everyday Etiquette

"In a home I visited I was introduced to three people at once. How should I have acknowledged such a triple introduction?" asked Maud.

"Bow to each in turn as the names are mentioned and repeat the name of the person you bow to," said her friend.

"When invited out to dinner in a cafe who should I thank, the host or the hostess?" asked Mona.

"You should thank the woman as it is she who has properly extended the invitation. You might tell the host that you have enjoyed the evening," said her aunt.

"When traveling with friends and paying her own expenses, should a girl allow a man to order for her when eating?" asked Jane.

"The man may be allowed to order if it is understood that she is to pay the bill," said her sister.

When leaving a dining table at which I am a guest, should I fold my napkin?" asked Ella.

"Leave it unfolded beside your plate if you are to be present only one meal, if more fold it," said her sister.

"Is it proper for the groom to visit the bride on the day of the wedding and before the ceremony?" asked Jack.

"Most families hold that the groom should not meet his bride on the day of the wedding, until after the ceremony," said his father.

Block Island, R. I.: Three hundred passengers were taken from the steamer Mormaco, which ran aground off Block Island in heavy seas.

Washington: In a note to the state department, Italy expressed complete agreement with the United States in regard to the latter's position as to the disposition of the island of Yap.

ARCADE SHOE STORE IS OPENED SATURDAY

With a partial stock of men's, women's and children's shoes the C. O. Eagle & Son shoe store opened this morning informally in the Arcade. C. O. Eagle, who has been in the shoe business here for the last 20 years, stated this morning that it would be the endeavor of the new store to furnish high class goods, unconditionally guaranteed, at fair prices. The window sign of the company, C. O. Eagle & Son, under which is an American eagle, which was put on by Joe Lanning, is attracting favorable attention as an excellent trademark and a clever piece of work.

STRUCK BY AUTO HIP IS DISLOCATED

George Johnson suffered painful injuries early Friday afternoon when he was struck by a machine at the corner of West Main and Eleventh streets. He was knocked down and later taken to his home, 125 Elmwood avenue by the driver of the car. Dr. J. G. Shirer was called and an examination showed that his left hip was dislocated and left ankle injured, and he was otherwise bruised. He is resting more comfortably today.

Our Boys and Girls

To keep a child in a healthy condition each class of food advised yesterday should be represented in some meal in the twenty-four hours. It is also necessary that these foods should be present in certain proportions and amounts. For the average child from three to four times a day the diet should consist of one of the proteins should be given. The following menu will suggest well balanced meals for a child.

Breakfast—Baked apple with cream, well cooked oatmeal with milk, one egg, toast and rice pudding. Or cream of corn, well cooked hominy with milk, whole wheat raisin bread and butter.

Dinner—Broiled hamburger steak, spinach, baked potato, graham bread, butter and rice pudding. Or cream of chicken soup, cereal bread, poached egg, baked potato, mashed potato, mashed turnip, junket and molasses cake.

Supper—Cereal with milk, stewed fruit and a small piece of sponge cake. Or cereal with milk, baked apple, toast and orange marmalade.

Milk and cereals form an important part of a child's diet because in these foods are represented all the elements necessary to the nourishment of the body.

The child who is to be taught self grooming must be provided with the equipment for the same. Every child should have its own toilet belonging, such as personal towels, soap, wash cloth and tooth brush. The pride in ownership will be a great step toward the intention to use these tools.

Do not expect a small child to use an ordinary wash stand or bath toilet basin designed for adults. If it is impossible to give a child a special wash stand, have a small white stool in front of the wash basin. Any little three-legged stool, white enameled, will answer and it may be kept under one side of the basin.

By the means of this stool the child can be taught to lean over and bathe face and hands and brush the teeth with soap. Where there are two or more children the tooth brushes should be marked in some way so that no mistake may be made, and even a mere babe should be trained to fastidiousness about a tooth brush.

"THE STEALERS"

A WONDER FILM.

"The Stealers" William Christie

Cabanne's powerful human document, a Robertson-Cole super-serial, will be the attraction at the Grand theater, beginning Monday for a run of 3 days.

The picture, which has created a sensation wherever it has been shown, is said to mark a new milestone in motion picture history.

Mr. Cabanne, former assistant of David Wark Griffith, conceived, wrote, directed and produced "The Stealers."

The work is the culmination of Mr.

Cabanne's years of experience in the art of the silent drama. It was this experience which prompted Mr. Cabanne, to make the central theme of his masterful picture faith, blind faith in the certainty that the forces of evil, and that the justice meted out by the Supreme

Power is felt on earth without waiting for the judgments of that other world of which Christianity preaches.

The story deals with the blasphem-usually appealing. Thomas H. Ince produced it for Paramount Artcraft release.

WILL ROGERS STARS IN

"BOYS WILL BE BOYS."

Will Rogers, Goldwyn star, will be seen in one of the best character parts

he has ever played in "Boys Will Be Boys," a picture taken from the story by Irvin S. Cobb, which comes to the Auditorium Theatre for 3 days, comencing Monday.

Rogers has the part of "Peep O'Day," and it is about the adventures that befall him before and after he falls heir to a fortune that the story is based.

The action occurs in a little Kentucky village and the main characters are

Peep O'Day, Judge Priest, Lucy the school teacher, Mrs. Hunter the willing widow, Sublette, a crooked lawyer, break the sheriff, and Kitten the im-poster.

Peep O'Day is a good natured dreamy and mysterious Irish hostler, gentle and abused. He suddenly falls heir to a fortune in Ireland and his first thought is to enjoy his idyllic which he has never had. He consequently plays all sorts of boyish games and the neighbors think he is crazy. Sublette uses this as a hook upon which to hang a plot with which to get Peep O'Day's fortune. Lucy, the sweet young school teacher, in love with the young town lawyer, undertakes to teach Peep O'Day his lessons in the schoolhouse. Mrs. Hunter, the willing widow, also out for Peep

O'Day's money, sees them there and complexes import Kitty from Louisville to impersonate Peep O'Day's cousin.

She is a good hearted southerner and in a courthouse scene which closes the to the prisons while others mount to the heights of happiness. This is the foundation of "While the Devil Laughs."

Miss Lovely portrays the role of a girl crushed by the environment of a helpless family which she has to mother, and is driven to crime in order to provide for those she loves. How

Lovely is a company of capable players

old wonder child of the screen will be his way through five reels of snappy drama to a finish that will strike a particularly happy chord on the heartstrings of those who see it.

"Breezy" Eason is the son of Reeves screen appearance in "Pink Tights"

she wins although all the forces of evil are against her; how she comes up from the depths through love and faith; is told in a story of suspense and heart throbs that is said to hold interest until the final scene.

The story is by George William Hill, who also wrote the scenario and directed the picture. Surrounding Miss

Lovely is a company of capable players

in which William Scott is the leading man.

Little "Breezy" appears as a waif of the city streets who leaves a brutal father and goes to the country on a freight train, accompanied only by his faithful dog, Mickey. He captures a sufferings he considered the Lord had visited upon him. His wife stolen from him by a former rival, he gives up his gelist, speaking wherever he is permitted to pitch his tent. While he holds the audience through the sheer power of his eloquence, men and

The minister regarded his plan of he came to learn that to defy God was never to be forgotten one it has been

Because of its simple theme and its forceful presentation through the me-

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

IN "LAST OF MOHICANS."

Early American history is graphically represented on the screen in Maurice Tourneur's new special film, "The Last of the Mohicans," which shows at the Auditorium theater today.

The actual story repeats the horrible massacre of Fort William

Henry, New York, which took place on August 10th, 1757. Strangely enough, Tourneur filmed the identical events on the south of August, 1920, and for a time it looked as if the calendar had returned to colonial days, so realistic was the big scene.

It was a bloody affair, but only one zation of glycerine blood was spilled over the ground at the Tourneur studio. Meanwhile, the French general, set out for Canada with savages as his allies, determined to capture the British forts. The general, Col. M'aro, and thousands of soldiers and Indians lived again in the film scenes.

This special picture comes with an all-star cast, headed by such well-known players as Wallace Beery, Al-

bey Fox, Joseph Singleton, Barbara

Belford, Lillian Hall and Henry Woodward, with an array of player talent that is capable of carrying a picture unabated.

LOUISE LOVELY IN A

With a powerful drama of New York's underworld as her third starring vehicle under the William Fox banner,

Louise Lovely, the talented little emotional actress, comes to the Alham-generation of a girl caught in a web of circumstance that made her a thief, although her soul cried out for all the

Mrs. Jennie McDaniel of St. Louisville is mourning the loss of her faithful old horse "Net". The horse fell in

It Rained Again Today.
Another rainy Saturday has been added to the long list since the first of the year. GRANVILLE
(Special to the Advocate.)
Granville, April 30.—Mrs. T. S. Johnson was hostess this forenoon for the Y. W. C. A. cabinet breakfast, which had been planned as an outdoor function on Sugar Loaf. A. were present, Friday members of the advisory board Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain, Mrs. T. S. Johnson, Mrs. T. F. Chambers, Mrs. Brumback, Miss Anna Peckham and Miss Harriett Johnson.

Beginning at noon Friday, rain fell steadily until Saturday forenoon, turning to snow toward morning. The open season at Denison for picnics, lawn bats, hay rides, and garden parties, has been, to date, a failure, and farmers in the vicinity fear that what little fruit survived the previous freezes will be unable to survive many more frosts.
Mrs. Frank Ray and daughter, Miss Frances, left this week for a five weeks' visit with friends in Chicago and Wisconsin. OHIO BEATS DENISON.
Athens, April 30.—Ohio won from Denison 8 to 1 yesterday. The lone run of the visitors came in the fourth on a hit an error. Barstow laid no trouble fanning 12 men, six of them in a row. Wynant hit a homer with two in bases in the last inning. Ohio hit hard.

THIS WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE
Brings a Ray of Hope to Childless Women
Lowell, Mass.—"I had anemia from the time I was sixteen years old and was very irregular. If I did any housecleaning or washing I would faint and have to be put to bed, my husband thinking every minute was my last. After reading your text-book for women I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sensitive Wash, and have never felt better than I have the last two years. I can work, eat, sleep, and feel as strong as can be. Doctors told me I could never have children—I was too weak—but after taking Vegetable Compound it strengthened me so I gave birth to an eight pound boy. I was well all the time, did all my work up to the last day, and had a natural birth. Everybody who knew me was surprised, and when they ask me what made me strong I tell them with great pleasure, 'I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never felt better in my life.' Use this testimonial at any time."—Mrs. ELIZABETH SMART, 142 W. Sixth St., Lowell, Mass.
This experience of Mrs. Smart is surely a strong recommendation for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is only one of a great many similar cases.
